Alvin Bragg is attempting to interfere in our democratic process by invoking federal law to bring politicized charges against President Trump, admittedly using federal funds, while at the same time arguing that the peoples' representatives in Congress lack jurisdiction to investigate this farce.

Not so. Bragg's weaponization of the federal justice process will be held accountable by Congress.

Trump is not above the law. Look, we get it. The only reason why you are kissing Trump's ass is because his base supports you. You had no problem politically persecuting Hillary Clinton, you are nothing more than a political hack. Your words don't mean a damn thing.

Well said Kevin! Alvin Bragg does not serve the American people. He serves one man and one man only. George Soros

The first thing the puppet house speaker did when he was finally allowed to pretend to take power was publicly thank trump. Marge is the captain. Trump is the boss. Kevin is a cutout. The house is in disorder. Here's the confession and pledge of allegiance

Any hesitation DA's across the country have ever had of going after a former president (governor, senator, state supreme court justice etc...) has now been lifted. You want to be a famous DA? Charge a senior member of your least favorite party. It's going to backfire.

James conveniently forgets that a NY GRAND JURY indicted Trump, not the DA.

Justice has finally caught up with Trump and James is all butt-hurt about it.

McCarthy's equation of indictment with election interference — which has been a talking point in Trump's circle for weeks — goes way beyond criticism of the merits of Bragg's case.

It implies that Trump should be exempt from any prosecution as long as he's running for office.

Yes more indictments for sure. Can't wait to see Biden go down too. He also is guilty as sin for covering up his own sleazy criminal affairs. The opening of this Pandora's box has begun. If they don't indict Biden you could safely say that America is done. Civil war will happen.
